

click here to see the chat and video channels click here to join the life session click here to connect your video and here you are!

to see the chat click here this is how it looks like when you click on the chat to go back to seeing all the videos click here to start or stop video, mute/unmute, share your screen and disconnect, use these buttons. you might need to move your cursor around for them to appear.

here you will see channels for each base group for you to use in your small group sessions we will create breakout rooms channels here as well, which you will join at certain points during our life sessions. We will say more about it when we meet!